

STUDENT LIFE MARKETING + DESIGN

Hello, I'm Dustin Quam a professional web developer.

The Student Life Marketing + Design (M+D) team is hiring talented and enthusiastic web developers to work on exciting and challenging new projects and web applications for the Division of Student Life and other clients on campus.

M+D provides student developers with real world experience in a cutting edge development environment while providing training in the latest frontend and backend frameworks, toolsets, and techniques. '

All with good pay and flexible hours.

We currently have two developer positions open and we prefer applicants that have some experience or immense interest in working with HTML5, SASS, Grunt/Gulp on the front end and/or PHP, Rails + other object oriented frameworks, and unit testing on the back end.

We accept candidates with varying degrees of experience in either front or back end development. Experience with unit testing on the front end is a bonus!

For more information about these positions and about M+D in general and our projects, please visit our website:
