

On Campus Software Engineer

MAVERICK
Software Consulting

Maverick Software Consulting is looking for talented and highly motivated students to work with our clients while taking classes.

You will be part of a software development team helping our clients develop and test their software. You will have the flexibility of working in our clients office or from home. We'll train you, provide you with a laptop, let you work a flexible schedule, and pay you better than most student jobs out there.

- Provides training to help bridge the gap between what is taught in college and what an entry level software engineer really needs to know.
- Real world software development and testing experience. Not doing “busy” work. We are part of our clients software development and testing teams.
- On the job training with Java, Hibernate, Spring, C#, HTML, jQuery, JavaScript, XML, Selenium, JUnit, SQL Server, Etc.
- Flexible schedule - employees set their own schedules.
